

WHAT SUPREME COURT THINKS OF TRUSTEES

Actions Like That of Marshall County Officials Monday Undermine the very Foundations of Civil Government, Say Highest Tribunal of Indiana.

The opinion of the Supreme court of Indiana has been expressed in a case exactly similar to the one now being acted in Marshall county. In the case of Wampler vs. the State, decided in 1897, and given in the 148 Ind. at page 557, the matter came before them from Blackford county. Speaking of the action of two trustees of that county who refused to attend a meeting for the election of a county superintendent as the law directed, the court says: "It is to be regretted that appellant, as a public official, entrusted under the law, with a public duty, should disregard its plain provisions and commands. Such neglect or refusal to perform a duty which he had sworn to discharge, merits severe condemnation. When public officers, charged with the execution of the law, refuse to obey its mandates, or willfully ignore them, the evil results which must necessarily follow from such acts, tend to undermine the very foundation of civil government. When such officers fail or refuse to discharge their plain duties under the law, not only do they violate their official oaths, but also subject themselves to the penalty imposed by section 2105, Burns' R. 1894.

The section of the statute to which reference is made reads as follows: "Any officer under the Constitution or laws of this state, who fails to perform any duty in the manner and within the time prescribed by law, shall, on conviction, be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding six months."

Receives Fine Position.

Prof. H. G. Schell, who has been in charge of the Commercial Department of the Plymouth High School for the past two years is to leave Plymouth next to accept the position of head of the Commercial Department of the Oshkosh High School at Oshkosh, Wisconsin. Oshkosh is one of the leading cities of Wisconsin and its High School is wholly up-to-date. While Prof. Schell will be greatly missed in Plymouth, yet his friends congratulate him on the promotion.

Both Prof. and Mrs. Schell will win a wide circle of friends during their stay in this city. They have shown their public spirit by taking an active part in the life of the city. Both were members of the Civic Club and the Tocattelles. Mrs. Schell was active in the Saturday Club, and has helped on numerous public programs, furnishing delight to all by her charming readings. Both have assisted generously with their musical talent at various entertainments and social gatherings. Prof. Schell has been the teacher of a class of young men in the Methodist Sunday School and his place will be hard to fill as he was very popular with the boys.

Prof. and Mrs. Schell will leave Plymouth in a few days, for Mrs. Schell's home in Michigan, where her mother is quite ill. Prof. Schell expects to attend the University of Michigan this summer.

Owing to the increased demand for cow peas to enrich and improve the soil, it has been almost impossible to find enough seed to supply the demand. We still have a few of the Whipporwill variety. Forbes' Seed Store.

BIRTHS

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Riggins of Culver June 5.

A fine eight pound boy was born Monday night to Mr. and Mrs. Worley Seybold.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Eric Adomeit Monday morning, June 5. Mrs. Adomeit is better known here as Miss Lucretia Loring.

Bridal Party.

The Tanner-Rawlings Bridal Party were entertained Monday evening at the home of Z. M. Tanner. About twenty were present, being those taking an active part in the nuptial ceremony of Tuesday evening. The house was beautifully trimmed with festoons of Florida Moss, sent by the aunt of the bride, draperies of pink tulle, and pink roses, covering the table, on bowls, and on curtains. The bride and groom occupied seats of honor, in chairs, tied together with immense bows of pink and white ribbon. Here they were toasted and congratulated by all the guests. They bore the ordeal gracefully having been sustained by an elaborate five course dinner served to all in the dining room. The amities were presided over by little white china Cupids, who suspended in mid-air from the electroliers, aimed their tiny arrows at others also than the bride and groom.

Each guest carried home as a souvenir a silver paper slipper in which was a satin bag containing rice.

Annual P. H. S. Dance.

After the commencement exercises the annual commencement dance was given in the Armory hall. About sixty couples fell in line for the grand march which started about 11:30. The twenty four dances with "oats" consumed the hours until 4:30 a.m. when the crowd dispersed and wended homeward. The hall was decorated better this year than it has been before. The class colors, green and grey, with the High school shades, cream and crimson, were used very tastily. Many penants were used in making the walls attractive. Elbels of South Bend furnished the music.

BRILLIANT IS WEDDING AT LOCAL CHURCH

TANNER-RAWLINGS NUPTIALS FORM ONE OF MOST BRILLIANT SOCIAL AFFAIRS OF COMMUNITY.

RECEPTION IS HELD

Large Company Assembled At Presbyterian Church to Honor Young Couple Many Costly Presents Given.

In the Presbyterian church, decked with palms, ferns and lilies for the occasion, in the presence of about three hundred friends, Edna Clare Tanner was last night united in marriage to Mr. Charles Harvey Rawlings, of Anderson.

Shortly before seven o'clock Miss Ferrel Shafer played Peer Gynsuit's "Morning." Miss Neff sang.

This was followed by Lohengrin's Wedding March to the sweet strains of which the bridal party approached the altar through the north aisle. The wedding ceremony was performed by Dr. Rondthaler, the groom's pastor at Anderson. The groom was escorted by his brother-in-law, Stuart Kurtz, as best man, and the ushers, Chas. Blanchard of Moline, Ill., James Ewing of Anderson, Lloyd Hill of Philadelphia and Hubert Tanner.

The bride's maids were Ruth Chadwick, Bess Bucher of South Bend, Bess Atherton of Anderson, and Mabelle Stokes of Chicago. They wore gowns of pink chiffon and carried bouquets of white sweet peas in cases. The matron of honor was Mrs. Stuart Kurtz of Indianapolis, sister of the groom. The bridal path was strewn with sweet peas by two little flower girls, Martha and Helen Tanner, the little four and two year old daughters of Ed Tanner.

The bride, beautiful in a gown of white satin trimmed in pearls, and carrying a large shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, was led by her father to the altar where her arm was placed in that of the groom and the marriage was performed amid music, played softly on the harp by Ivan Doyle, of South Bend. After the ring ceremony, the bridal party retired from the church by the south aisle, while Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played on the pipe organ.

About 250 friends followed the Bridal Party to the home of Z. M. Tanner where the bride and groom were showered with congratulations. The home was a profusion of smilax, draperies, lily-bells, pink tulle bows, and white satin ribbons. The dining table had a centerpiece, a mammoth basket of pink roses, and china cupids were suspended by pink ribbons from the chandeliers.

The harpist played throughout the reception. The guests refreshed themselves by punch from a large bowl in the hall. They were served a delicious bridal supper consisting of chicken patties, potato chips, hot rolls, pickles and olives, fruit salad, ice cream in pink heart shapes with cupids of white in relief, cakes with pink rose-bud decorations, after-dinner mints and coffee.

The supper was served by Carol Humrichouser, Grace Milner, Maud Marks, Martha Howell, Damaris Metaker, Fern Snoberger and Veta Gardner. During the supper a number of telegrams of congratulations were read from absent friends.

The bride and groom left last evening for South Bend. From there they will go to Toledo, by boat from there to Cleveland, and on to Atlantic City where they will spend ten days. After that they will visit Philadelphia and Washington. They will return to Plymouth for a few days before going to their new home which will be at 332 West Eighth street in Anderson, where Mr. Rawlings conducts a large department store.

CLEAN UP!

On Broken Lines of Men's and Women's

Low Shoes at $1.65

Shoes Selling at $2.50, $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00

WHEN YOU SEE THESE SHOES you'll wonder how we can sell them at such a low price. Well, we've too many shoes on hand just now and are badly in need of extra room. These shoes are broken lines, which means not a complete run of sizes, but the assortment is very good. They come in all styles of leathers, colors, tan, black, pat. colt, vici kid and gun metal. You'll find every shoe a big value, worth twice and as much as three times what we are going to sell them for. They are so good that we are willing to guarantee each and every pair.

Ladies' Trimmed Hats Suffer a big Reduction

Twice a year you notice we advertise at or near the close of the season all our trimmed hats at a sensational price. Every hat must be sold, that's our policy, and such a price is put on each hat that forces its sale. We will not allow a trimmed hat to be carried over into another season. The reductions on many numbers are far below the actual cost of making. Late buyers will do well to come early; now's your time; don't put it off; the first selections are always best.

BALL & CO.

The large number of valuable presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Rawlings attest the high esteem in which they are held by their many friends. Aside from the formal presents were the shower presents, given to the bride in a Bag shower, given by Miss Neff, the Dresser shower given by Lura Capron and Cecil Burkett, and the Handkerchief shower given by Ruth Chadwick.

The ushers were presented by the groom with silver stick pins with monograms, the bridesmaids received from the bride penants of amethyst and pearls. The groom's present to the bride was a pin of pearls. The bride's present to the groom was a pair of pearl opera glasses. The little serving girls were remembered with dainty heart shaped aprons.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. M. H. Rawlings, Miss Eva Hornaday, Mrs. Grace Cheney, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Hower, and Mrs. Atherton, of Anderson; Mrs. H. O. Stokes, Rose Kasper and Hazel Ehrhardt of Chicago; Mrs. Theresa Scher of Kankakee, Ill., Mrs. H. A. Engman, Mr. and Mrs. Culver-Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Culver, Mr. and Mrs. Knight Culver of St. Louis, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Engman, Jr., of South Bend.

Health Notice.

In the Health Ordinance lately passed by our City Council, there are four disease producing conditions, that require abatement, one of each we will give public notice in its town.

1. Animal manure in any quantity, which is not securely protected from flies. This is applicable to all places in the city, where animals are kept. Either in livery barns or private stables. This requires that the stables shall be cleaned and swept every morning, and the contents thrown in a closely fitted covered box of suitable dimensions, and when full to be promptly removed out of the city. This box is to be constructed of plank from 1 1/2 to 2 inches thick having bottom, sides, ends and top. The plank on the top are to lie loose, but closely fitted that they can be removed to receive deposits and one end of the box of removable plank for convenience in emptying, but the box kept through the day absolutely fly tight.
